

Computation and dynamics in economics

Óscar Afonso

Faculdade de Engenharia do Porto (FEP) and Center for Economics and Finance at UP
(CEFUP)

The use of advanced computing capabilities to understand and solve economic complex problems is a demanding task. Recent developments have provided new insights for economy policy and policy makers.

This mini-symposium will gather experts and young researchers developing their work in this important research topic.